

What do the parents believe the mission for Scholars at East should be?

Through a number of community meetings convened by Joanne Larson during the 2015-16 school year, parents identified the following ideas as their long-term goals for students at East:

- Self-advocacy - problem solving skills
- Empowerment
- To see possibilities

- Basic conceptual and skill based understandings
- Ability to work with others
- Role of the individual within the community and the give and take of being a part of a community

- Development of healthy lifestyles
