The Priceless Product: You Are It

Youth & Adults

ROOTS modules focus on character, ability, and reputation. Workshops will dive into different exercises to help Mothers and students answer the following questions: What is your character? What is your ability? What is reputation? What is in a name?

Please join us at School #52 for a mother/child PD series presented by the ROOTS program which is sponsored by the RCSD Office of parent engagement and funded by My Brothers Keeper Grant.

During our 5-day seminar "Priceless Product" (dates are listed on the cover sheet). We will be assisting mothers with empowering skills, meaningful for disempowered students faced with issues in and out of the classroom. We intend to arm mothers with vocabulary and activities to recognize the assets of the student and redirect damaging behaviors to achieve better outcomes. Uncovering unrecognized talents of mothers, but also pinpoint strategies that mothers can use to reveal the gifts and talents housed within our students.

Theme: Art of Empowered Mothers

As mothers face the daunting reports of reduced test scores and meager graduation rates, we will encourage and emphasize the mothers' strengths and irreplaceable contributions to student success. In the Art of the Empowered Mothers training, we assist our mothers to face the giants of their lives and how to navigate their life as well as their child to the road of greatness. It is a 5-part series dealing with the unresolved issues from the past, the here and now and where we are headed. So far, this training has received great reviews in the Rochester City School District and Greece School District.

Please join us in this amazing opportunity to live and grow as we all want what is best for our mothers and children at School #52. Since seats are limited, please be sure to complete the "RSVP" form (at the bottom of this letter) and the name of your child that will be attending.
