I also enjoyed (and actually really needed) the refresher on how to observe and formulate questions for a post conference. It has been almost two years since I have observed an intern. 87	Pairing up with teachers across different grades to get different viewpoints.	1/11/2021 8:34 PM
88	It would have been awesome to hear from some Phase 1 colleagues about their return, possibly to help bridge Phase 2's return!!	1/11/2021 8:32 PM

31	Directions were a page long. If they could have been simplified that would have been easier.	1/12/2021 8:20 AM
32	Pertaining to the discussion running smoothly, it was difficult to get an in-depth discussion. A few of the room members were extremely worn down from the day. Conversation was good, but stilted. It is not anything you can do, I just thought you'd like to know.	1/12/2021 8:17 AM
33	As stated earlier, my breakout group was so awesome. Everyone was professional and polite.	1/12/2021 7:54 AM
34	Discussing the video definitely generated more questions for our group. This is good because it helps people think of different perspectives and solutions.	1/12/2021 7:54 AM
35	Again, I am not big on breakout rooms. It would be welcomed if another avenue could be explored for input from audience; like the padlet!	1/12/2021 7:52 AM

42	We ran out of time for the padlet!!	1/11/2021 8:34 PM
43	Small groups are great.	1/11/2021 8:14 PM
44	The work wasn't directly relevant but it was an interesting discussion and good to see what type of instruction special education students may be receiving in a small group during this time.	1/11/2021 7:52 PM
45	I feel that receiving feedback from other disciplines is objective with fresh eyes.	1/11/2021 7:42 PM
46	Thank you for all the planning to make it interactive, engaging and helpful	1/11/2021 7:10 PM
47	I have a hard time navigating padlet when I'm using my phone. Our breakout group was small - I would have like to hear ideas from a few more people.	1/11/2021 7:07 PM
