3 points per day x the # of days you had English class = max points for the week.
Your total points for the week divided by max points for the week = your score.

Ex:

If you have English 3 times in a week, your max points for the week would be 9.

If your daily scores for that week were 3, 2, and 1 (total of 6) and it was divided by 9 (your max points for the week), your grade for the week would be 66%.
