Details:
Edison Tech’s carpentry program students have teamed up with the Corn Hill Neighborhood Association to put new Adirondack chairs in a terrace area immediately south of Corn Hill Landing. Under the supervision of Special Education teacher Scott Moore, students in the New York State Alternate Assessment program built the chairs with Career and Technical Education and art students from Edison. The Corn Hill Neighborhood Association bought the materials for students to build the chairs and provide essential craftsmanship and labor. Ten chairs will be placed in the area immediately south of Corn Hill Landing.
