Details:

For the 3rd consecutive year, Edison Career and Technology High School is reinventing the class field trip. The school's "Diesel Days" will feature companies in the manufacturing technology field and students from that pathway. This "field trip" at the Edison campus will expose students to career opportunities as diesel mechanics.

On Thursday, November 9, students can introduce themselves to potential employers and meet one-on-one with diesel industry companies to discuss their futures as diesel mechanics.

Students will engage in hands-on experiences with the latest diesel technology, and potential employers will get to network with future students who are potential interns/job seekers and educators passionate about the diesel industry.

Representatives from the City of Rochester and several companies will be there, including the Trucking Association of New York (TANY), Leonard's Express, Wadham's Enterprises, and West Herr Ford.
