Maeve Delehanty is a junior at World of Inquiry School No. 58 and a member of the District's Student Leadership Congress (SLC). As part of her SLC service project, she has chosen to read books to first-grade students at her school.

Maeve and her classmates will also present 25 new age-appropriate, culturally-relevant books to students in those first-grade classes. The high school students and first-graders will then enjoy snacks together!

SLC is a body of student leaders representing their respective high schools and serves as the voice of students to the Board of Education, the Superintendent of Schools, District administration, and community leaders. SLC plays a key role in offering perspectives on educational policies and student/school climate issues.
