Anna Murray-Douglass Academy School No. 12 is celebrating the third annual Anna Winterfest on Saturday, February 24. This event is a collaboration with Rochester Ecology Partners and the Center for Youth: Earthworks Institute. Students and families are invited to participate in outdoor winter fun with sledding, snowshoeing, snow sculptures, and nature walks.

Nature-based learning is a priority at School No. 12, and year-round community partners involved in this effort include the City of Rochester's Department of Recreation and Human Services, The Center for Youth, and the Frederick Douglass Library.

Snow or not...there will be much to see and explore in the nature-rich location next to Highland Park, including a hike to the Conservatory.
