English Honors Major Poetry Portfolio (30%)

Task: You will brainstorm and write a collection of 15 poems all connected to a theme of your choice that is used in some way and touched upon throughout all 15 of your poems. Don’t be restricted by your theme, but rather be creative, imaginative and thoughtful. You must use these types of poems for your first 10 poems (Organizers & Student examples in this packet):

- I AM POEM
- SOMEDAY POEM
- ONE WINDOW IS ALL I NEED POEM
- HA IKU POEM
- CONCRETE POEM
- CINQUAIN POEM
- ODE POEM
- FOUND POEM
- FREE-VERSE POEM
- SONNET POEM
- 5 ADDITIONAL POEMS (ANY TYPE)

Additional 5 Poems: The additional 5 poems can be any type of poem. You can repeat the same type only once. For example, you can only do 1 additional free-verse poem, 1 additional haiku, etc. Not all 5 free-verse poems. Put your poems in the same order found in this packet.

Drafting: Read the types of poems & examples. Pick your theme (Pg. 2). Write drafts of your poems. Add titles to your poems. Be sure to put the type of poem at the top of each poem.

Editing: Edit poems. Add poetry terms & check poetry resources (Pg. 3)

Publishing: Make polished poems! (You may be given time to type up your poems)

Requirements (Put portfolio in this order):
- Cover page on blank white paper (Include: Name & period, Theme, Creative visual)
- Table of Contents (New page w/poem type & title w/ pg. #s in order)
- 15 of your best poems (Polished theme related poems & use of poetry terms)
- Reflection page (Last page: Reflect on your poetry by answering the 6 questions)
- Do not use poems from another class, person or internet. This will earn you a zero.

Assessment: This is a major grade (30%). You will be assessed on:
- Cover. Table of Contents. Overall quality of poems. Poetry terms & Reflection

Due dates:
- Due Thurs, 5/21: Drafts of Poems 1-5
- Due Thurs, 5/28: Drafts of Poems 6-10

OWN THEME IDEAS:

TOP 2 THEME CHOICES:

TOP THEME CHOICE:

Poetry is a story that is so good, it doesn't need complete sentences.
Poetry Terms: Add some to each poem to enhance your poetry writing!

Alliteration: Common in poetry. This is the repetition of an initial sound (1st letter) in two or more words of a phrase, line, or sentence. Example: Fusco’s Focused Friday

Hyperbole: A figure of speech – an exaggeration or overstatement.

Imagery: This is used to describe the words or phrases which bring forth a certain picture or image in the mind of the reader. Imagery appeals to the senses - what can be seen, heard, felt, etc.

Metaphor: A comparison between two seemingly unrelated subjects without using “like or “as.” (Love is a walk in the rain at night, Stars were diamonds in the sky)

Mood: The feeling or atmosphere the writer creates for the reader.

Onomatopoeia: Words that sound like what they mean. For example, buzz, snap and boom.

Oxymoron: A combination of contradictory terms (cruel kindness, love hate)

Personification: A figure of speech in which human qualities are assigned to non-human things, or life is given to inanimate objects.

Repetition: The repeating of a word or phrase to create a rhythm or make a point.

Simile: A comparison between two seemingly unrelated objects using the words “like” or “as”. (Life is like a box of chocolates, you never know what you’re going to get)

Symbol: Something concrete, like an object, person, place or action that stands for something more abstract, like an idea, a feeling, or emotion.

Types of Poems (10) followed by a student example:

#1: I Am Poem  (Make it fit your theme. Be creative! Don’t be obvious 😊)
I am (two special characteristics you have)
I wonder (something you are curious about)
I hear (an imaginary sound)
I see (an imaginary sight)
I want (an actual desire)
I am (the first line of the poem is repeated)

I pretend (something you really pretend to do)
I feel (a feeling about something imaginary)
I touch (something you imagine you touch)
I worry (a worry that is real to you)
I cry (something that makes you very sad)
I am (the first line of the poem is repeated)

I understand (something you know is true)
I say (something you believe in)
I dream (a dream you actually have)
I try (something you make an effort to do)
I hope (something you really hope for)
I am (the first line of the poem is repeated)

Student Example:
I am the beginning of the day and the beginning of the end of the night.
I wonder when people will start taking me seriously.
I hear fire trucks, ambulances, and police cars in the distance.
I see people scattered on the streets of everywhere.
I want people to know that I’m the beginning of everything.
I am the beginning of the day, and the beginning of the end of the night.

I pretend that I control planet earth, even though it only goes around me.
I feel the coldness of other planets, and the feeling of thoughts of mammals.
I touch the distance between the sidewalks and the clouds.
I worry that no one realizes my existence.
I cry rays of light and heat.
I am the beginning of the day, and the beginning of end of the night.

I understand people don’t find me important.
I say that I’m the start of things because; when I rise you do too.
I dream of the day when people thank me for all that I’ve done.
I try to stay on the same schedule as always.
I hope that you consider me the start of something new.
I am the beginning of the day, and the beginning of end of the night.
#2: Someday Poem:
This poem should be at least 10 lines in length with each line beginning with the word Someday.

Student Example:

Someday…
Someday I hope I’ll reunite with my loved ones
Someday I’ll sleep with no worries
Someday I hope I’ll walk through my home town streets again
Someday it will all be over
Someday they will come to an end
Someday there will be no threat
Someday the air will be clean
Someday there will be no need for protection
Someday we will all sleep safely
Someday we will all be able rely on everyone, not just allies
Someday…

#3: One Window Is All I Need Poem:
This poem should be at least 10 lines in length. Begin your poem with the line One window is all I need. Continue to write about this imaginary window in a personal way.

Student Example:
One window is all I need…
To watch the sunset
For the butterfly to beat it’s wings
To watch the grass grow
To feel the mist of the waterfall
To watch the leaves age
For the beautiful flowers to blossom
To find the end if the rainbow
To run in a shimmering field of gold
For a connection to my beautiful surroundings
One window is all I need.

#4: Haiku
Haiku is an unrhymed Japanese verse consisting of three unrhymed lines of five, seven, and five syllables (5, 7, 5). Haiku is usually written in the present tense and often focuses on nature (seasons), feelings and/or experiences.
Student Example:
Crowded but lonely
Master of horrible death
Blindly takes your life

#5: Concrete Poem
Poetry can take on many formats, but one of the most inventive forms is for the poem to take on the shape of its subject.

Student Example:
A key to the Unknown opens to a world no one's ever entered before. As you cross you do not know what is to become of you.

Suddenly, it becomes dark.

Your heart races like the harsh wind

in the air.

The tall

Trees

Swish

With

Anger!

The skies are

Talking to you.

Silent screams make you

Chill with fear.

The sea roars furiously,

Draws you closer to pull you in.

#6: Cinquain Poem
This poem is a 5 line poem, usually unrhymed, with 2 syllables in the first line, 4 in the second, 6 in the third, 8 in the fourth line, and 2 in the last line.

Student Example:

Alone

Quiet, Blissful

Focus, Practice, Relax

Mortal constrictions are unbound

Peaceful

#7: Ode Poem
This poem should be at least 10 lines in length. An Ode is a poem praising and glorifying a person, place or thing.

Student Example:

Oh the sea!
Whose wave’s crash hard
But yet so gently
Whose colors are different
Just as peoples are
The sea is a home
A getaway, a view,
A memory, a dream,
A movie, an experience
In which we all should
Treasure like a jewel
Until the next time we see the Beautiful waves crashing once

#8 Found Poem
A found poem takes existing text/words, rearranges them and presents them as poems. You cannot use any of your own word, but rather use only words you find. Found poetry is often made from words “found” in newspapers, street signs, graffiti, speeches, letters, books, or even other poems. Decisions of form, such as where to break a line, are left up to you, the poet. Be sure to cite where you “found” your information. Play around with the organization/order of the words you find. Limit the words you find to 3-5 sources. This poem must be at least 10 lines in length.

Student Example:
From the novels: The Son of Neptune and The Serpent’s Shadow by Rick Riordan
Confused
Life force ebbing
Brain fuzz lingering
Ride away
Along the way
Claim him
The world is at risk
Killing monsters
Threatening to destroy
Chaotic
The world will become Divided
Order is disappearing
Follow the path to conclusion

#9: Free Verse Poem
This poem should be at least 10 lines in length (My rule). This is the most “free” of all poetry in terms of rules. Free Verse is an irregular form of poetry in which it is free of traditional rules such as rhyme. In moving from line to line, the poet’s main consideration is where to insert line breaks. Some ways of doing this include breaking the line where there is a natural pause or at a point of suspense for the reader.

Student Example:
The light
At first sitting
So silently in the background,
Makes its way out.

Night is in the open,
Ready to pounce
And attack.
The two contrast.
After circling each other like
Worthy opponents,
The fight begins.
Everything is illuminated,
Heaved,
And thrown around,
Like the rolling waves of the ocean
Crashing against the shore on a stormy night.
Finally, it stops.

What used to be a gloomy passage way
Finds a peek of light.
You reach, and reach...

The brightness surrounds you like a forest fire,
Knocking some sense into you as its force pushes you back.
You are blinded by clarity
While the taste of intensity settles in your mouth.

It’s abrupt
And tangy
And feels like its coiling around your tongue
Like a snake attacking its prey.

You have hid in the darkness for so long
And now you have been embraced.
Emerge
With light guiding the way
To Hope.

#10: Sonnet
A Sonnet is a poem consisting of 14 lines, each containing 10 syllables. See the organizer on the next page to assist you! Follow it carefully. One of the most famous of all Sonnets is Shakespeare’s Sonnet 18:

Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
Thou art more lovely and more temperate:
Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May,
And summer's lease hath all too short a date:
Sometime too hot the eye of heaven shines,
And often is his gold complexion dimm'd;
And every fair from fair sometime declines,
By chance or nature's changing course untrimm'd;
But thy eternal summer shall not fade
Nor lose possession of that fair thou owest;
Nor shall Death brag thou wander'st in his shade,
When in eternal lines to time thou growest:
So long as men can breathe or eyes can see,
So long lives this and this gives life to thee.
